- make short patterns that go up and down on a keyboard for me to listen to – remember to let me feel what you're doing if I can't see
- now do the same using touchscreen, or beam or gesture-recognition technology
- make simple patterns using a glockenspiel or xylophone
- do the same on a wind instrument, such as a recorder
- make short patterns that go up and down on a string of a ukulele or guitar
- on a single note or chord, start playing quietly, then get louder and louder, and then gradually quieter again
