Teach me about the little fragments of music that are used to identify phones, computers and other equipment:

- let me hold different phones as they ring
- let me watch or feel the microwave as it beeps
- show me how a doorbell works
- let me listen to the computer start-up sound and show me where it comes from
- find me toys that play short bursts of music, and show me how they work
- make recordings of the sounds so that I can listen to them, just for fun
