Card

Think beyond the classroom or home:

- large places that echo (halls, churches, long corridors)
- small places that absorb sound (multisensory rooms, small furnished areas)
- outside near buildings that may bounce my sounds back to me
- the great outdoors (in a field, on top of a hill)
- in different weathers – a hot sunny day, when it's foggy, or with snow on the ground
- use technology that can mimic different environments, by adding reverberation to my sounds
